Contents

IT’S FOR YOUR OWN GOOD! RESEARCHING YOUTH JUSTICE PRACTICES

Jenneke Christiaens

1. Policing Minors: Balancing Welfare and Justice
   Tijs Van Steenberghe, Rudi Roose, Didier Reynaert & Marleen Easton

2. I Can’t Stand it any Longer! Parental Requests to Discipline their Unruly Children (Brussels, 1966-2006)
   Sarah Van Praet

   Kevin Goris

4. Appearing in Court and the Hearing of Minors: Practices of Judges of the Juvenile Courts in Belgium
   Clémence Françoise & Jenneke Christiaens

5. Exploring the Gender Dimension in the Juvenile Justice Court. An Analysis of Court Hearings
   Sofie De Bus

6. Dispositions by Juvenile Court Judges Regarding Young Offenders: Actors and Phenomena that Impact Decisional Practices
   Valentine Mahieu

7. Quality of the Juvenile Court Records in Flanders
   Sofie Merlevede & Freya Vander Laenen
8. Families with a Migrant Background: a New Stake for Belgian Family Justice
   Caroline Simon 159

   Olga Petintseva 175

10. Pre-trial Detention in the Dutch Juvenile Justice System
    Bridging Welfare and Justice
    Yannick van den Brink 195

11. The Judgments of Belgian Juvenile Judges Concerning Juvenile Offenders with Mental Disorders
    Leen Cappon & Freya Vander Laenen 211

12. The Meaning of ‘Appropriate Treatment’ for Children Placed in a Closed Institution in the Netherlands
    Maria P. de Jong-de Kruijf 231

    Marcel Imani Mapoli 249

14. Families Scanned from Behind Bars. Social Workers and Youngsters Talking about Family Ties when in Detention
    Marie Charlotte Cardon 267

15. Hearing the Voices of Delinquent Girls in Belgian Reform Schools (1920-1970)
    Veerle Massin 285

    Liselot De Wilde & Bruno Van Obbergen 303

17. Let’s Talk about Your Life? A Qualitative Study on the Life Courses of Juvenile Delinquents
    Alice Jaspart & Dominique De Fraene 319
18. From “Re-education” as an Educational Paradox to Education as a Shared Commitment?
   Karel De Vos, Rudi Roose & Maria Bouverne De Bie 337

19. ‘If the Youth Care Worker Had Called at least it Would Show She Cared.’ Youngsters on the Importance of Care
   Sharon Van Audenhove 353

20. Researching Transitions of Youngsters Formerly Involved in the Youth Protection System
   An Nuyltiens & Tinne Geluyckens 373

Notes on contributors 391